

What Can You Do With a Computer at School?

There are many things you can do with the computers at school.

You can:

- Take a test on a book you read
- Use web pages your teacher has picked out for you
- Type stories, create pictures, and more!

Danger!

Sometimes when you use a computer at school, something you don't like might show up. If this happens, tell your teacher right away!

Rules for Using School Computers

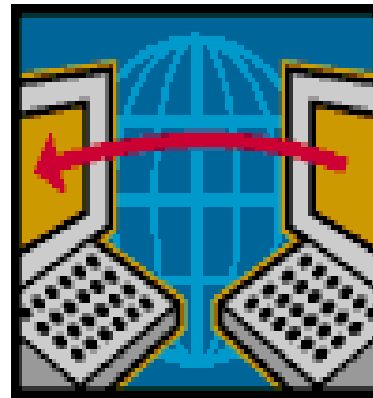

- When I use a computer at school, I will only do what my teacher told me to do.
- I will not damage the computers at my school.
- I will not tell my password to anyone, not even my friends.
- I will not type my name or anything about myself on the computer without asking.
- If I see something that make me feel bad, I will tell my teacher.
- If I use a picture or words from a webpage, I will show where I got it from.
- I will not access social media websites, unless instructed to do so.
i.e. Facebook, Twitter, MySpace

What happens if You Break the Rules?

Always ask before using the computer at school. If you do not follow these rules, your teacher may not allow you to use the computer anymore!

Ready?

Take this home and talk about it with your mom or dad. Then write your name on the back.

Keep this by your computer at home.

For Home

Some of the things you do at school, you can also do on a computer at home!

Information for Parents/Guardians

Padua Academy strives to provide a powerful educational program for your child. Because technology is such an integral part of today's society, using technology during school is a critical component of your child's learning experiences. We take every precaution possible to ensure your child's safety while using these educational tools. Please help us teach your child appropriate use of technology by discussing the information in this document and encouraging them to adhere to the rules at all times. If you or your child have any questions or concerns, please contact his/her teacher.

Home Use of the Internet for Learning

Parent involvement and supervision are critical to ensuring your child's safety on the Internet. Padua Academy assists you in this by providing home access to resources that support your child's learning. The following are examples of resources available at home as well as school:

- Online Library Catalog: search for books in the school library by reading level or topic. Print a list to take to school the next day.
- Research tools: students can research a topic using safe, educational resources provided by the school. Access online encyclopedias, magazines, newspapers, etc...
- School website: your school's website provides information about classrooms, schedules, staff, etc...

Please contact Padua Academy if you have any questions regarding these resources.
